Get Your Work Done, Because Oktoberfest Starts at 2pm!

I know most people don't work well under pressure, but Oktoberfest starts at 2pm today and if you get your work done early, you can come out and join the Street Party - just say you have my permission!

Click here for complete details, but know that the Street Party takes place 2-6pm today, 11am-6pm tomorrow and 11am - 5pm Sunday. Oh, one more thing, because I see this every year in the North Merchandise Tent: If you've pre-ordered your steins, be sure to go to the Merchandise Tent at the south end of the event, not the north. See you out there!

A Special Guest at the Tin Shop

The Tin Shop Guest Artist Program is probably my favorite offering from the Art's District. An artist actually lives and works in the Tin Shop and holds open hours for visitors to drop in and see what they're working on. The artist even hosts a workshop!

The current visiting artist is sculptor Elise Brewster from Berkeley, California. She'll be at the Tin Shop through September 30 and her studio hours are Thursdays - Sundays, 2pm - 6pm. She'll be hosting two workshops on September 17 and 24 where you can either design a costume to wear to the September 27 Arts District Preview Dance Party or you can help create work for an ongoing installation.

The Tin Shop is located at 117 East Washington Avenue, so stop in and say hello or see the Tin Shop's page for more info.

Hiring Tips For The Winter Season

Next Wednesday there will be a free seminar from 8-9:30am in Town Council Chambers offering tips on hiring for the winter season! Just be sure to let me know if you're coming so I bring enough coffee and breakfast. You can send me an email or drop me a line at 970.453.5058.

Volunteer For The Breck Film Fest

The Breck Film Fest runs next weekend from September 18-21, and they're in search of volunteers to run projectors, sell tickets, help filmmakers, sell concessions and more. As a thank you for volunteering, you'll get to see movies for free! Interested? Call Lisa Cheek at 970.423.6087.
